

Dr. Pelè

Dr. Pelè is an educator, musician, bestselling author, and the Founder of ClientJam™, a software and community that delivers consistent client acquisition for highly paid experts. Through hands-on mentorship, he helps creative entrepreneurs, coaches, and consultants unleash their hidden powers of mindset and marketing to achieve the business success they seek.

Born in a war-torn African village, he has experienced both humble beginnings and the victory of the American dream. His unique journey has taught him what truly drives success—and it's not who or what we are—it's our ability to unleash the 'Profitable Happiness' within us to solve the world's problems and dance to the music of our lives.

Dr. Pelè holds a Ph.D. in Organization and Management. He has delivered global learning solutions to Fortune 500 clients, won numerous speaking awards, and landed songs on top Billboard and UK music charts.

Today, Dr. Pelè artfully combines his passions for music and business education to help people close the gap between potential and performance.
